Dear Stanley,

You are certainly aptly named, with your double S's; for when I think of you I see you with a big S on your chest and a red cape billowing out behind you!

Stanley, this letter started out as a testimonial for you but really what it is , is a heartfelt thank you. Thank you for all that you did to give my brother the chance to save himself. His brothers and I did not know what to do, so you showed us the way to help.

Dealing with addiction and intervention is not something one does in the normal course of things. I spoke to one interventionist who yelled at me and said if my brother died it would be all my fault. You on the other hand were so calm, clear and professional that you instilled calmness and confidence in all of us. You predicted the course of the intervention and it occurred exactly as you said.

The intervention is just the first step in how you helped us all. You shepherded my brother personally to his clinic and saw him settled. You spoke regularly with the staff to oversee his progress and relayed information to us so that we too knew what was occurring. You even fought for my brother when you believed that his treatment needed to be changed. We wouldn't even have known a change was needed, but you did.

When it was time for my brother to return home, you personally constructed a program that would help him re-enter daily life at home. You brought him home, found his after-care program, his therapist and helped set him up in AA. You stayed with him for a full week, making sure he had every chance to succeed.

Thanks to you Stanley, he continues to thrive.

With warm regards,

Ellen Bayley Campbell
